

Plus on Sunday 23 June:

Tindalls Cottage (35): From Flax to Linen

Paul Henry will be processing flax outside in Tindalls Cottage garden.

Also at the Museum:

Longport Gallery (58): The Power of Plants Exhibition 27th May– 1st September

Don't miss the chance to see our new exhibition, which looks at the history and creation of the Museum's Historic Gardens. The exhibition showcases the potential use of plants, from culinary and medicinal herbs, to use in textiles and dyes, and also how the plants support the biodiversity and sustainability of our natural environment.

Visit our website wealddown.co.uk/what's-on to see what else we have planned this year.

Become a Member

Be part of something historic and enjoy a whole year of visits with a Museum membership.

wealddown.co.uk/memberships

membership@wealddown.co.uk
01243 811010

FLOWER POWER

Saturday 22 & Sunday 23 June

What's on programme

Activity Room (18): Floral Activities for All

A range of 'have a go' botanical crafts and activities. Botanical artist and printmaker Julia White will show you how to make a beautiful floral print.

Hambrook Barn (59): Words Out Loud

Spoken word performances on a floral theme.

Performance times: 11.30am-12noon, 12.30-1pm,
2-2.30pm, 3-3.30pm.

Market Square (6): Floral Songs & Stories performed by Trads Folk Arts

Performance times: 10.30 & 1pm
(45 mins)

Crawley Hall (7): British Flowers Rock!

4th generation grower Ben Cross will be talking about the importance of growing flowers sustainably and buying locally.

Talk time: 2pm (approx. 45 mins)

Walderton (9): From Plant to Perfume

Experience various fragrant materials and learn how to capture the smell of your favourite flower with Laura Hoy, Clinical Aromatherapist & Essential Oil Consultant.

Walderton Garden (9): The Folklore of Plants

Meet the Museum Gardens team and learn about the folklore of plants, 11am-3pm

Whittaker's Garden (10): The Flowerpot Forager

Author and expert forager, Stuart Ovenden will be available to answer any foraging questions and discuss tips, tricks and recipe ideas.

Sole Street (33): Make a Flower Buttonhole

Make a beautiful flower corsage to wear with the help from Tony Lucas. Website: the-thinking-gardener.com

Poplar Garden (34): Contemporary Floral Remedies

Medical Herbalist, Emma Baynes will demonstrate and show the processes of how to make floral remedies and tinctures.

Poplar Garden (34): Herbal Walks

Join Emma Baynes on a herbal walk to learn about the herbs and flowers that can be used for natural remedies. Meet at Poplar Garden.

Walks at 11am and 2.30pm (approx. 45mins)

Tindall's Cottage (35): The Delicate Art of Distilling

Food historian, Mark Meltonville, will be distilling flowers and herbs inspired by our gardens.

Tindall's Hop Garden (35):

Find out how we grow hops at the Museum.

11am -3pm.

Toll House (4): Keeping Clean in Regency England

Find out how people in 1800s England stayed sweet smelling using plants and herbs.

Bayleaf Farmstead (48): A Tudor Celebration of Midsummer

Visit Bayleaf Farmhouse to see how a yeoman farmer and his household would have celebrated Midsummer.

Winkhurst Hall (47): Natural Dyes & Textiles Display

Meet our historic dyeing experts and find out how to create an array of colours using plants.

Cowfold Barn (49): West Sussex Beekeepers

Talk to our beekeeping experts.

Introductory Galleries (3): Horticultural Therapy Display

Discover the therapeutic benefits that flowers can bring.

Gridshell (57): Woodcut Prints with Will & Nikki Dyke

Meet the artists currently exhibiting in The Power of Plants Exhibition.